Coimisiún na Scrúduithe Stáit
State Examinations Commission

LEAVING CERTIFICATE EXAMINATION, 2022

HISTORY - HIGHER LEVEL

FIELD OF STUDY: EARLY MODERN, 1492-1815

Written examination: 300 marks
Pre-submitted Research Study Report: 100 marks

WEDNESDAY, 15 JUNE – AFTERNOON, 2.00-4.50

Instructions to candidates:

- Section 1 (100 marks)

Documents-based question (Ireland: Topic 2)
Answer all parts of this section.

- Section 2 and Section 3 (200 marks)

Ireland: Topics 1, 3, 4, 5, 6 and
Europe and the wider world: Topics 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.
Answer one question from each of two topics.

Do not hand up this question paper.

It will not be returned to the State Examinations Commission.

The 2022 examination papers were adjusted to compensate for disruptions to learning due to COVID-19. This examination paper does not necessarily reflect the same structure and format as the examination papers of past or subsequent years.

SECTION 1: DOCUMENTS-BASED QUESTION

Ireland: Topic 2
Rebellion and conquest in Elizabethan Ireland, 1558-1603

Case study to which the documents relate:
The clerical career of Meiler Magrath

Study the documents opposite and answer the questions below.

1. (a) How does Meiler Magrath dress 'in town and country', according to document A?

   (b) In document A, what does Meiler Magrath assemble when going to a meeting?

   (c) What order was given by the government of Ireland, according to document B?

   (d) In document B, what happened to Meiler Magrath when he was travelling to Dublin?

   (20)

2. (a) What contrasting views of the character of Meiler Magrath are offered by the documents? Refer to both documents in your answer.

   (b) Do both documents suggest that Ireland in the 1590s could be a violent place? Give reasons for your answer, referring to both documents.

   (20)

3. (a) Is there evidence of bias in document A? Give reasons for your answer, referring to the document.

   (b) Taken together, what is the value of documents A and B as historical source material? Refer to both documents in your answer.

   (20)

4. What political and religious circumstances in Ireland allowed Meiler Magrath to flourish during the reign of Elizabeth I?

   (40)

- Document A -

This edited extract from the Irish State Papers (21/8/1591) records accusations made against Meiler Magrath.

Archbishop Magrath, having lost a sum of money gambling with Tadhg O'Hiffernan, gave him – a mere layman – the vicarage of Cahirconlish in the diocese of Emly, in the county of Limerick.

Meiler is a cruel beater of people. To name one among many that he greatly abused: on 22 July 1572, Meiler took John O'Mullony by the hair of his forehead for demanding from him some part of his back-pay. Meiler cut, with an Irish skeane [knife], all the flesh from the forehead to the crown of the poor man's head.

Meiler, forgetting the honour due to his position as Archbishop, goes like a warrior in town and country, in doublet, jerkin and breeches, his sword on his side. He is accompanied by a train of armed men, to the great terror and bad example of the people. And, if he is to have a meeting with his neighbours on a controversial matter, he assembles an army of horsemen and footmen to win his demands by force.

- Document B -

In this edited extract from the Irish State Papers (10/10/1591) Meiler Magrath responds to the accusations.

Meiler answers that he promoted Tadhg O'Hiffernan to the vicarage of Cahirconlish because of his worthiness, being the third-best reformed [Protestant] minister in that diocese, and not in payment for any such sums of money lost at gambling.

The order was given by the government of Ireland that all of her Majesty's subjects who wore their hair long [in the Irish style] should wear it according to the English fashion. For that reason Meiler requested John O'Mullony, among others, to cut his long hair. When he obstinately refused, Meiler, with a small knife, attempted to cut off some of his hair. Making resistance, O'Mullony had, by chance, a small piece of his skin cut off, together with some of his hair; but he suffered no hurt.

As for the armour used, and his company in town and country, Meiler confesses he is usually armed when he goes to his chapter house or to any other assembly. This is to protect him from the many enemies he has made through performing his duty to God and her Majesty's business. This is because, some eighteen years ago, when travelling from his home to Dublin accompanied only by a few unarmed men, Meiler was set upon, robbed of his horses and money, wounded, and left for dead.

Source: both documents are from Lawrence Marron, 'Documents from the State Papers concerning Miler McGrath', Archivium Hibernicum, 21 (1958).

SECTION 2: IRELAND

Ireland: Topic 1

Reform and Reformation in Tudor Ireland, 1494-1558

Answer one of the following questions:

1. What were the strengths and weaknesses of the House of Kildare under Gearóid Mór, 8th earl of Kildare? (100)
2. How successful were the political and religious policies of Henry VIII? (100)
3. How successful were the religious policies of Edward VI and Mary I? (100)
4. What was the importance of brehons, bards and annalists in Gaelic Ireland? (100)

Ireland: Topic 3

Kingdom v. colony – the struggle for mastery in Ireland, 1603-1660

Answer one of the following questions:

1. Why did James I embark on a policy of plantation in Ireland and to what extent was it successful during his reign, 1603-1625? (100)
2. Why was there opposition to Sir Thomas Wentworth, earl of Strafford, in Ireland? (100)
3. Why did Oliver Cromwell's dealings with Ireland prove so divisive? (100)
4. What was the importance of two of the following: Keating's Foras Feasa; Piaras Feiritéar; the depositions of 1641? (100)

Ireland: Topic 4

Establishing a colonial ascendancy, 1660-1715

Answer one of the following questions:

1. Why did Charles II's policies displease Catholics and Protestants in Ireland? (100)
2. What were the main issues fought over in the War of the Two Kings, 1688-1691, and why were so many soldiers from continental Europe involved? (100)
3. What were the main trends in the Irish economy, 1660-1715? (100)
4. What was the influence of two of the following: William Molyneux; the Jacobite poets; Robert Boyle? (100)

Ireland: Topic 5

Colony versus kingdom – tensions in mid-18th century Ireland, 1715-1770

Answer one of the following questions:

1. How did the Seven Years' War, 1756-1763, affect Ireland? (100)
2. What was Dean Jonathan Swift's contribution to Irish affairs? (100)
3. How did the activities of the Whiteboys and/or the trial of Father Sheehy reflect divisions in Irish society? (100)
4. What was the importance of two of the following: Charles O'Conor; Margaret (Peg) Woffington; Turlough O'Carolan? (100)

Ireland: Topic 6

The end of the Irish kingdom and the establishment of the Union, 1770-1815

Answer one of the following questions:

1. What did you learn about the lives of women in Ireland from your study of two of the following: Nano Nagle; Eibhlín Dhubh Ní Chonaill; Mary Anne McCracken? (100)
2. What was achieved by 'Grattan's Parliament', 1782-1800? (100)
3. What were the main features of Irish rural society and/or the rise of Belfast during the period 1770-1815? (100)
4. What was noteworthy about two of the following: developments in Protestantism; Maynooth College; Georgian architecture? (100)

SECTION 3: EUROPE AND THE WIDER WORLD

Europe and the wider world: Topic 1
Europe from Renaissance to Reformation, 1492-1567

Answer one of the following questions:

1. What was the importance, for England and for Europe, of the divorce of Henry VIII and Catherine of Aragon? (100)
2. What was the importance of Niccolò Machiavelli and/or Desiderius Erasmus? (100)
3. Regarding the exploration of the New World and its impact on Europe, what was the importance of two of the following: Christopher Columbus; the port of Seville; Hernan Cortes? (100)
4. To what extent was the Reformation in Germany both a religious and a political movement? (100)

Europe and the wider world: Topic 2
Religion and power: politics in the later 16th century, 1567-1609

Answer one of the following questions:

1. What were the achievements of Elizabeth I of England? (100)
2. From your study of society and economy, 1567-1609, what did you learn about two of the following: the reasons for the decline of the port of Antwerp; the causes and consequences of inflation; population trends; the changing structure of the family? (100)
3. What were the causes of the French Wars of Religion? (100)
4. What were the achievements of two of the following: Matteo Ricci; Tycho Brahe; Michel de Montaigne? (100)

Europe and the wider world: Topic 3
The eclipse of Old Europe, 1609-1660

Answer one of the following questions:

1. What were the main characteristics of French absolutism? (100)
2. How was the rise of new powers illustrated by one of the following: Sweden; Holland; Muscovy? (100)
3. From your study of society and economy, what did you learn about two of the following: serfdom and varieties of peasantry; women, work and family; witch-hunting? (100)
4. What tensions existed in two of the following sets of relationships: the Papacy and the Jesuits; Galileo and the Inquisition; Anglicans and Puritans in England? (100)

Europe and the wider world: Topic 4

Europe in the age of Louis XIV, 1660-1715

Answer one of the following questions:

1. Why did France under Louis XIV come to be the most admired and the most feared country in Europe? (100)
2. What did Peter the Great want for Russia and how successful was he in achieving his aims? (100)
3. From your study of society and economy, what did you learn about two of the following: the activities of the (English) East India Company; the commercialisation of agriculture; the evolution of the family? (100)
4. What was the importance of Isaac Newton and/or Gottfried Wilhelm Leibnitz? (100)

Europe and the wider world: Topic 5

Establishing empires, 1715-1775

Answer one of the following questions:

1. How enlightened a ruler was Catherine the Great of Russia and/or Maria Theresa of Austria? (100)
2. What was the importance of the West Indies slave plantations for international trade? (100)
3. How did Prussia under the Fredericks increase its power and prestige? (100)
4. How did two of the following contribute to the communication of ideas: the Encyclopédie; the salon; Benjamin Franklin? (100)

Europe and the wider world: Topic 6

Empires in revolution, 1775-1815

Answer one of the following questions:

1. What was the impact of the agricultural and industrial revolutions on the city of Manchester? (100)
2. To what extent did the French Revolution benefit or harm France? (100)
3. How do you account for Napoleon's early victories and for his eventual defeat? (100)
4. What was the importance of Madame de Staël and/or Mary Wollstonecraft? (100)

Copyright notice

This examination paper may contain text or images for which the State Examination Commission is not the copyright owner, and which may have been adapted, for the purpose of assessment, without the author's prior consent. This examination paper has been prepared in accordance with Section 53(5) of the Copyright and Related Rights Act, 2000. Any subsequent use for a purpose other than the intended purpose is not authorised. The Commission does not accept liability for any infringement of third-party rights arising from unauthorised distribution or use of this examination paper.

Do not hand up this question paper.

It will not be returned to the State Examinations Commission.

Leaving Certificate - Higher Level

History

Wednesday 15th June
Afternoon 2:00 - 4:50